Khushi Mundra

Marketing Consultant @ SabaiHealth | Making Healthcare Accessible

Bengaluru, Karnataka, India

Summary

Hi, I am Khushi I work across branding and growth initiatives, with experience in launching brands, driving lead generation, building content-led initiatives, and improving organic visibility. With a background in tech and management, I enjoy working at the intersection of strategy and execution—where insights, storytelling, and data come together to create measurable impact. I have worked closely with founders and leadership teams, translating ideas into structured programs that scale. I am particularly interested in how positioning and thoughtful marketing can build trust, shape perception, and drive long-term growth. Always open to conversations around marketing, growth, and building things from the ground up.
